CALL to CONFESSION

PRAYER of CONFESSION

Gentle Shepherd, we have been beat up and broken by the world at times. We have been rejected and forgotten. We have been pushed down and moved to the margins. Bring us in. Bind up our wounds. Lift us up. May we know Your love and embrace. Forgive us when we have been the ones causing the hurt and pain for others, when we have forgotten and rejected our neighbors, when we have been the ones to marginalize and oppress. May Your love, justice, and peace prevail. Amen

PROCLAMATION of GRACE

GLORIA PATRI #813

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost; as it was in the beginning, is now and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Our Father, who art in heaven hallowed be thy name, thy kingdom come, thy will be done, on earth as it is in heaven. For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, forever. Amen.

When you picture hunger, what do you see?

Hunger in southwestern Pennsylvania looks like a dad skipping breakfast and lunch so his children can eat three meals a day, or a grandmother reducing the amount of groceries she buys to pay for an expensive prescription, or a student getting her only nutritious meals at school.

Hunger in southwestern Pennsylvania is not always visible. But it almost always means that people are making tough choices between important basic needs, such as housing or medical bills, and purchasing nutritionally adequate foods. Those choices lead to poor health outcomes—undernourishment, obesity, diabetes and stress.

We know that people with low food security frequently cut portions or skip meals. They also frequently rely on highly processed foods and report eating fresh fruits and vegetables only in the first few days after receiving their monthly SNAP benefits. This type of eating pattern, built on lack of access to healthy food and phases of under-eating and over-eating, makes food insecure and low-income individuals especially vulnerable to obesity.

When people are forced to choose only food that is affordable, available and filling, obesity becomes an unintended consequence of hunger.

And it hurts children the most.
